THE WEDNESDAY WORD

Special word of the week is:

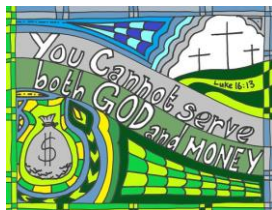

"TRUSTWORTHY"

'There was a rich man who had a manager, and people said that that this man was wasting his possessions. The master said to him, "What is this that I hear about you? You are cheating so I will take away your job."

The manager called the people who owed money and asked them what they owed. He then told them to write down about half of what they owed. The master praised him for being shrewd.

'No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.'

Luke 16: 1-13
